Phone: 619-296-2135

Principal: Florida May Padilla

Grade Span: K-12

By February 1 of each year, every school in California is required by state law to publish a School Accountability Report Card (SARC). The SARC contains information about the condition and performance of each California public school. Under the Local Control Funding Formula (LCFF) all local educational agencies (LEAs) are required to prepare a Local Control and Accountability Plan (LCAP), which describes how they intend to meet annual school-specific goals for all pupils, with specific activities to address state and local priorities. Additionally, data reported in an LCAP is to be consistent with data reported in the SARC.

- For more information about SARC requirements, see the California Department of Education (CDE) SARC Web page at <http://www.cde.ca.gov/ta/ac/sa/>.
- For more information about the LCFF or LCAP, see the CDE LCFF Web page at <http://www.cde.ca.gov/fg/aa/lc/>.
- For additional information about the school, parents/guardians and community members should contact the school principal or the district office.

DataQuest

DataQuest is an online data tool located on the CDE DataQuest Web page at <http://dq.cde.ca.gov/dataquest/> that contains additional information about this school and comparisons of the school to the district and the county. Specifically, DataQuest is a dynamic system that provides reports for accountability (e.g., test data, enrollment, high school graduates, dropouts, course enrollments, staffing, and data regarding English learners).

Internet Access

Internet access is available at public libraries and other locations that are publicly accessible (e.g., the California State Library). Access to the Internet at libraries and public locations is generally provided on a first-come, first-served basis. Other use restrictions may include the hours of operation, the length of time that a workstation may be used (depending on availability), the types of software programs available on a workstation, and the ability to print documents.

Throughout this document, the letters DPL mean data provided by ASELTINE SCHOOL and the letters DPC mean data provided by the CDE.

School Facility Conditions and Planned Improvements

At Asetline School, safety is a priority. The school has developed a comprehensive plan which ensures compliance with California Department of Education (CDE) regulations. The school safety plan has been established and is updated annually for the county as required by California Education Code Section 35294. In addition to meeting requirements, safety checks are conducted on a weekly basis by the Operations Coordinator to ensure that the school's grounds are secure and maintained. Monthly fire drills and quarterly disaster drills are conducted and follow the best practices of the local school district. The Operations Coordinator conducts monthly assessments and adapts the School Safety Plan to meet the changing needs of the campus.

B. Pupil Outcomes

State Priority: Pupil Achievement

The SARC provides the following information relevant to the State priority: Pupil Achievement (Priority 4):

- Statewide assessments (i.e., California Assessment of Student Performance and Progress [CAASPP] System, which includes the Smarter Balanced Summative Assessments for students in the general education population and the California Alternate Assessments [CAAs] for English language arts/literacy [ELA] and mathematics given in grades three through eight and grade eleven. The CAAs have replaced the California Alternate Performance Assessment [CAPA] for ELA and mathematics, which were eliminated in 2015. Only eligible students may participate in the administration of the CAAs. CAA items are aligned with alternate achievement standards, which are linked with the Common Core State Standards [CCSS] for students with significant cognitive disabilities); and
- The percentage of students who have successfully completed courses that satisfy the requirements for entrance to the University of California and the California State University, or career technical education sequences or programs of study.

Note: Double dashes (--) appear in the table when the number of students is ten or less, either because the number of students in this category is too small for statistical accuracy or to protect student privacy.

Note: The number of students tested includes all students who participated in the test whether they received a score or not; however, the number of students tested is not the number that was used to calculate the achievement level percentages. The achievement level percentages are calculated using only students who received scores.

Career Technical Education Programs (School Year 2016–17)

Aseltine School provides students with courses necessary for a high-school diploma as determined by the requirements of their district of residence. In the 2016-2017 school year, less than 10 students in grades 9 through 12 were enrolled in courses leading to a high school diploma. In addition to earning a high school diploma, Aseltine School also focuses in preparing students to a less restrictive environment. By the end of the 2016-2017 school year, 32% of students who regularly attended successfully transitioned back to public school; and 2 students were dual-enrolled with Aseltine School and a public school within their school district.

Aseltine School provides vocational training and transitional services for students. Throughout the year there are several opportunities provided for students to get them ready for life after school. Incorporated within the instructional program, students are enrolled in electives and are engaged in activities that teach them how to obtain and retain gainful employment. These activities foster students' development in autonomy and responsibility. In addition to these instructional opportunities, Aseltine School has established a Culinary Arts Program and provides community-based instruction as required by their Individualized Transition Plan.

Aseltine School's Culinary Arts Program provides students with the skills they need to find employment in the community as well as basic skills such as healthy meal planning, food preparation, and financial budgeting – skills needed to lead independent, self-sufficient lives. As a result of the culinary arts program, students develop basic cooking and inventory skills and learn health and safety standards for proper food preparation and storage. Students practice math skills as well as vital problem-solving skills and learn important tools to help them compete in the job market: marketing, customer service, dependability, and basic accounting – all while they develop a work-ethic and gain real-life work experience. Students begin seeing the connection between school and work and begin to build confidence, resulting in improved academics and attendance.

School Safety Plan (School Year 2017–18)

At Aseltine School, safety is a priority. The school has developed a comprehensive plan which ensures compliance with California Department of Education (CDE) regulations. The school safety plan has been established and is updated annually for the county as required by California Education Code Section 35294. As of 2018, this plan also includes a Suicide Prevention Plan and a revised Active Shooter Plan. Staff have participated in these related trainings on an annual basis. In addition to meeting requirements, safety checks are conducted on a weekly basis by the Operations Coordinator to ensure that the school's grounds are secure and maintained. Monthly fire drills and quarterly disaster drills are conducted and follow the best practices of the local school district. The Operations Coordinator conducts monthly assessments and adapts the School Safety Plan to meet the changing needs of the campus.

School Safety Behavior Program

At Aseltine, staff and students work together as equal partners – staff do not try to manipulate students into acting in a certain way; we teach students to learn to make effective and thoughtful decisions for themselves. Staff help students realize they have control over their lives – and the ability to determine their futures and make better choices for themselves. Although we recognize and respect students' frustrations with and criticisms of their past schooling, we do not accept this as an excuse for their behavior. We encourage students to carefully examine their actions and then thoughtfully decide what actions they must take to realize their goals – a necessary step before they can make any academic progress.

Every aspect of the Aseltine Program is grounded in reinforcing and strengthening students' conflict resolution skills. For students experiencing difficulty working in their regular classrooms and who can not reach an agreement with staff on how to approach their difficulties, the Conflict Resolution Program offers intensive opportunities for students to explore their problematic behavior – and reach an effective resolution for themselves and the entire Aseltine community. The Conflict Resolution Program challenges students to identify, understand, and overcome the conflicts they have with people, with circumstances, and within themselves. During this intensive process, staff challenge students to consider their behavior – and its consequences – from five points of view:

- 1) Pragmatic (practical): What are the practical problems the student's behavior has for the classroom and for him/her?
- 2) Political (community): What direction will the student's future take if he/she continues this problematic behavior?
- 3) Personal-ethical (right action): Would the student allow others to act similarly toward him/her?
- 4) Self-paradigmatic (identity/world view): Is the student a victim with no control over their actions or life – as his/her behavior implies – or a capable, responsible young person?
- 5) Expressed intentionality (students' goal): Will this behavior help the student achieve his/her goal – as stated in the student's IEP or in personal conversations with staff – or make it more difficult to achieve?

By engaging the students as thinkers, problem-solvers, and partners in their learning process, Aseltine students master the tools necessary to develop themselves into self-aware, confident, responsible young people prepared for life. We believe all students have it within themselves to respond to life's most difficult challenges in a thoughtful, self-disciplined, and responsible manner.

The goal of the Conflict Resolution Program – and the entire Aseltine program – is to teach students to become thinkers, not reactors; to evaluate situations; to identify their options; to decide which option is best to try in a given situation, and then to learn to apply a similar evaluation process in everyday situations, including life outside Aseltine School. Through this process, students develop self-awareness, personal and social coping skills, communication skills, problem-solving skills, and a sense of empowerment. When students learn to effectively handle the challenges that have prevented their success in school, their grades and attendance improve as they begin to take responsibility for and control over their own lives – often for the first time.

Professional Development

Over the course of the school year, teachers and staff attend on-site trainings, as well as professional development provided by local districts when applicable. Professional development is a vital area at Aseltine School and it is imperative that our staff receive on-going opportunities to learn, develop, strengthen and refresh skills in innovative, best practices in academic instruction and classroom management, student social/emotional, and behavioral development and management. Teachers and staff are provided professional development via trainings and staff meetings in areas such as: Conflict Resolution, Assessment Administration, Instructional Planning and Implementation, IEP/BIP/ITP Development, Student Supervision and Safety, Disaster/Emergency Preparedness, Universal Health Precautions, Child Abuse and Mandated Reporting Procedures, Sexual Harassment, Pro-ACT refresher training, First Aid, Data Collection, Hughes Bill and Special Education Law, Extended School Year Procedural Training, and Suspension/Expulsion Policy. Aseltine School Staff also participated in trainings hosted by school districts and the San Diego County Office of Education. Some examples of trainings attended are Web-based IEP development, CAASPP Testing, Mental Health Training, LGBTQ Training, Common Core State Standards Awareness, and the Autism Authorization Program. To date, all teaching and classroom staff have been trained and certified in Pro-ACT procedures. There are 3 allotted days for Staff Development in addition to training that takes place during modified days 2-3 times a month. Methods by which professional development is delivered varies from after-school workshops, weekly meetings, individual mentoring, on-the-job coaching, and collaboration. Teachers' professional development is supported by weekly meetings (group and individual), on-going trainings, and internal student accountability systems that measure weekly, quarterly, and annual progress.
